

NaNoWriMo 2008 – National Novel Writing Month

50,000 words in 30 days – take the challenge and write the novel of your dreams!

November is National Novel Writing Month, the free event each year that encourages and motivates tens of thousands of people around the world to write their 50,000+ word novel in just 30 days.

Supported by online forums, a shared deadline and your own ideas and dreams, you too can complete your novel in November. Locally, there are preparatory sessions in October and write-in sessions in November along with a celebratory Thank-goodness-it's-over party in December.

Take the challenge!
